MISCELLANEOUS.

NORTH CAROLINA CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

NEW SERIES.

IT IS CONTEMPLATED TO RESUME THE PUBlication of the North-Carolina Christian Advocate at an early day, under the patronage of the North-Carolina Conference, and under the direction and ownership of a joint stock Company, composed of ministers and laymen, to secure its permanency.

It will be as its name imports, a CHRISTIAN Advocate.—It will contain and defend the doctrines and discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Hence, shall labor to advance Christ's kingdom on earth, and to promote peace and good will among all men.

Besides its eminent, religious character, it shall be an advocate of the moral, educational and industrial progress of North Carolina—a welcome visitor to every family and to the camps of our brave soldiers, and a general chronicler of what may be useful and interesting, and of the current events.

All our traveling and local ministers and the stockholders of the Company, are specially requested to act as Agents for the paper.

The old subscribers of the Advocate will be supplied with the same number, to the full amount due them at the time of its suspension, but as the mail books are lost in the destruction of the Mint, he must rely on the old subscribers themselves and the Agents, to furnish him with their names and post offices and the amount due them.

The Advocate will be well printed on good paper, and will contain an amount of reading matter equal to any paper in the State.

During the continuance of war prices, the subscription price will be $2 per annum, six months, and all orders for back or new numbers, must be accompanied with the cash. Each subscriber will receive a specimen number of the paper, when he can determine whether he will patronize it or not.

Address WM. H. PELL, Editor.

GENERAL ORDERS, NO. 3.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, Jan. 1, 1865.

I. THE FOLLOWING ORDERS ARE PUBLISHED for the information and guidance of all concerned:

II. Commanding officers of railroads, and all persons employed thereon, having had control, or their business in any way to engage calmly and faithfully in the discharge of their duties, are prohibited from quitting the same in obedience to any mandate, or with the control and management in any way of railroads.

III. Where transportation of troops or supplies by railroad is necessary, a Quartermaster or other authorized officer will report to the railroad agent upon the superintendent or keeper agent of the railroad, furnishing the necessary evidence of transportation, and delivering the troops or supplies to be transported.

IV. In the event that troops or freight is to be transported over any road that the road has the ability to carry promptly the whole demand, the regulations of transportation will indicate to the railroad officer what shall be the precedence. In the absence of any special order as to what freights shall go first, the railroad officer shall be governed by any General order the Quartermaster General may issue in regard thereto.

V. Whenever it may be thought to be to the interest of the speedy passage of troops, the officer in charge of such movement, will fix with the superintendent, or other officer of the road on which the movement is to be made the day and hour of departure, and, where one road, the transfer from that to that of the appointed time.

VI. In the absence of any regulations concerning the arrangement of any particular point the commanding officer will confer with communicate with the character and extent of service, to the principal officer of the road or roads from which it is required, and ask the personal supervision of the proper railroad officers to the duty.

VII. Quartermasters and Commissaries will exercise discretion in shipping freight not wanted for immediate use, and that may be stored at safe and convenient points, taking care not to block up roads and thereby impede transportation.

VIII. When it is necessary to send a special messenger with freight, such messenger must travel with the freight placed in his charge, and his transportation shall be given him on the train, in order to prevent him from travelling in advance of the train.

IX. Travelling officers will permit conscripts, enrolled while in the employment of railroads, to remain at their duties until Colonel William M. Wadley, A. A. G., designates another of those in a manner to be detailed for service on the road.

X. Any violation of these orders, or resistance to the part of railroad officers or persons connected with Government transportation will be reported to Colonel William M. Wadley, A. A. G., who will direct from time to time where his headquarters will be.

By order:
